CORE STRENGTHS AND QUALIFICATIONS

Brian R. Smith started EnSite, Inc. (previously DBS Consulting, Inc.) in May 2005 and has more than a decade of site planning, community visioning, landscape and hardscape design and project management experience. During this time, EnSite, Inc. has become a leader in planning, landscape architecture and civil engineering due to our unique ability to see value in spaces and places and our vision for making them special. Brian has overseen a multitude of residential, commercial, educational, and institutional projects. His responsibilities include being project designer and project manager for all phases of development, including site planning, government agency permitting, quality control, and construction administration. Brian is highly successful and motivated in creating positive working relationships with members of both the public and private sector to meet the vision, goals and schedules presented to him.
